

TEA WAR

—S
—N
—L i

Contents

Acknowledgments ooo

Note on Spellings, Transliterations, and Translations ooo

Introduction I

I. The Two Tea Countries: A Brief History of the Global Tea Trade ooo

Part I Competition and Consciousness: The Chinese and Indian Tea Industries, 1834–1896

2. Incense and Industry: Labor-Intensive Capital Accumulation in the Tea Districts of Huizhou and the Wuyi Mountains ooo

3. A Crisis of Classical Political Economy in Assam: From Economic Liberalism to a Theory of Colonization, 1834–1862 ooo

4. After the Great Smash: Tea Mania, Overseas Capital, and Labor Intensification in Assam ooo

—S
—N
—L
v

v

vi Contents

5. No Sympathy for the Merchant? The Crisis of Chinese Tea and Classical Political Economy in Late Qing China ooo

Part II Coolies and Compradors: Tea and Political Economy at the Turn of the Century

6. Coolie Nationalism: The Category “Freedom” and Indian Nationalist Campaigns against Labor Indenture ooo
7. From Cohong to Comprador: China’s Tea Industry
Revolution and the Critique of Unproductive Labor ooo
- Conclusion ooo

Notes ooo

Bibliography ooo

Index ooo